Terms and Conditions

- Branson Auto Museum will not be liable for any misrepresentation by the seller. We urge you to be honest and only state what you know to be true. When describing your vehicle, please try to stay away from terms like perfect, nicest in existence or flawless. These terms are very subjective and are hard to prove or disprove. If you don't know, play it safe or ask one of our sales representatives.
- Reserve is the net amount that you wish to receive for your vehicle. The reserve should be the lowest acceptable amount you would take for your vehicle.
- Commission is typically a percentage (10%) above and beyond your net price or reserve. Branson Auto Museum reserves the right to alter commissions, with seller's approval, to put a deal together. Commission is collected from the buyer and NOT the seller, unless special circumstances have been agreed to.
- Once the reserve or minimum is offered or met, I understand that I am obligated to sell my vehicle at the reserve price I set or discussed with Branson Auto Museum. Reserve changes should be done via email to your sales representative or listing agent.
- Branson Auto Museum makes no guarantees that any vehicle will sell in any given time frame. Consignment applications will be processed as soon as possible.

I understand all commissions for this service.
